

AMERICAN CULTURES & GLOBAL CONTEXTS SPECIALIZATION

The American Cultures & Global Contexts Specialization offers students an opportunity to study authors and topics drawn from a broad historical range. We also encourage students to develop a comparative understanding of the field. In practice, this includes exploring how different aspects of American cultures interact, and interrogating the ways regional, hemispheric and global trends shape, and is shaped by, American cultural expressions.

(From ACGC website: <http://acc.english.ucsb.edu/>)

Students who complete any four (4) upper division elective courses devoted to American culture will satisfy the specialization requirement – (note one lower division elective is allowed)

Please note that English 10AC and the upper division American literature courses that satisfy requirements for the English major—English 103A and English 104A—will not count towards the specialization - although these courses are recommended.

A senior seminar, English 197, in American Cultures & Global Contexts is advisable but not mandatory.

English Department courses that qualify as ACGC Specialization electives:

- English 10AC: Introduction to Literary Studies – American Literatures & Global Contexts (recommended, but only counts towards major requirements)
- English 50: Introduction to Minority Literature
